

Course description

Linux OS
5 ECTS
Grading: pass/fail

Linux is the most used operating system worldwide. In this course you get to know the basics of Linux operating system and related terminology. You will also install your own Linux and learn how to use it.

The basics consist of a graphical and text-based user interface, a directory structure, software and user management, and an introduction to processes and scripting.

